Update on in-home/center visits / reviews

Due to Covid-19, in person home / center visits / reviews have been temporarily suspended. The USDA has issued a waiver for us to complete the visits without going in your home. Alliance for Children will be completing the visits via various technology. We will be contacting you via different means (Phone, Skype, Zoom etc.) to complete the visits.

This is new to all of us, but together we can do it. We want the CACFP to continue throughout these difficult times. We will contact you; however, in the meantime, please continue to keep all your information and records up-to-date, as you have always done. Thank you so much!

For any concerns or questions, please contact our office. (801) 313-1090

Fun Water Games for Every Age by Rebecca Desfosse

Duck, Duck, Splash

This game is similar to Duck Duck Goose. Sit the kids sit in a circle. The child who is 'it' has a cup of water. She walks around saying duck, duck, duck, while splashing a little water on each head as she walks by. When she gets to the person she wants to tag, she yells, "Splash!" and dumps the rest of the water from the cup onto that kid's head. That kid has to chase them around the circle to try and beat them back to their spot or else they are the new 'it'.

Water Relay

For this game, split the kids into two teams. Each team has two buckets and an extra-large sponge. Fill one of the buckets with water and put it a few yards in front of the empty bucket. The point of this game is that one player from each team takes their sponge, runs down to the full bucket, fills the sponge with water and runs back to squeeze as much water as possible into the empty bucket. Then the next player goes and so forth, like a relay. The team with the most water in their bucket (the one that started out empty) wins.

Knock, knock. Who's there? Banana. Banana who? Knock, knock. Who's there? Banana. Banana who? Knock, knock. Who's there? Banana. Banana who? Knock, knock. Who's there? Orange. Orange who?

Orange you glad I didn't say banana?
